Special to The Washington Herald.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 22.—In spite of their own wastefulness and the frowns of Dame Fortune, the airtight pitching of Harris White, southpaw and barytone emeritus, enabled the White Sox to emerge victorious, 3 to 1, in the third and final Washington game.

White pitched practically a shut-out game against his fellow-townsmen, and it was almost as good as the one he hurled against the world's champions last rice against the world of champions is seek. He was opposed to the veteran ff dweller, "Long Tom" Hughes, and tpitched Sir Thomas by many para-nes. Yet there were many momenta-tion it looked as if the Nationals might off a victory. e wind was responsible for Wash-The wind was responsible for Washington's first opportunity to zecore, and it arrived in the first inning. Milan fouldout, then Schaefer raised a pop fly back of second base to the right field side. A flock of White Sox gathered and watched the ball coming down, but no one seemed inclined to tackle it. At the last minute Tannehill made an effort to catch the ball and muffed it, and Schaefer went to second. White then struck out Walker and Gessler.

White Sox Score in First

The Sox started tossing off opportunity in their half of the first. On down. Lord smashed a bounder to Schaefer, and best Tom Hughes to the base. Harry tried the hit and run with Doughërty, but a pitch-out nipped him at second by a narrow margin. Dough at second by a narrow margin. Dougherty then walked, stole second, and went to third on Street's wild throw. Bodie walked and McConneil pulled a hard liner to right for one base, scoring Patrick, and sending Pink to third. Tannehill fouled to Morgan, leaving two runs stranded.

In the next inning Mullen and Block were out when White caromed a safe hit off Hughes' mitt and beat the throw of McBride, who tried to right and Morgan fumbled a grounder from Lord's bat, filling the bases, but Dougherty struck out. Bodie opened the third with his second walk. McConerty struck out. Bodie opened the third with his second walk. McCon-nell bunted and Street juggled the ball long that everybody was safe. Tan-hill poked a bunt toward first and Schaefer, coming in fast, grabbed the ball in time to force Bodle at third. Mullen smashed a clean one over short field, and McConnell tried to score from second on it, but Walker's throw home was perfect and nipped the run by a step. Bloak struck out.

visitors scratched the tying run in Walker accepted a pass and was sacrificed ahead by Gessler. Mc Bride's bounder to McConnell put Walker on third, and Morgan hit a hot one through White's underpining. Bodie, first up, gained a life on Morgan's low throw to first and made second on a wild pitch. McConnell struck out, and Tannehill popped out. Just as hope was fading again, Mullen pulled a screamer between left and center for two bases, and Bodie scored. Block followed with a single, on which Mullen registered the third and final run. White grounded out. A two-bagger by Lord in the sixth inning was the only other hit made off Hughes, and the Sox went out three in a row in the seventh and eighth. The enemy made three hits off White after the fourth inning, and they had two more chances to score. In the seventh, with one out, White passed McBride and Morgan, but Cunningham skied to Dougherty, and Tannehill pinched Street's low liner. In the eighth Hughes opened with a single. Milan filed out. Schafer singled, and two runs lead did not look so big. But White struck out Walker and got Elber-

The claim has been made that a majority of the stock of the Washington baseball club is owned by outside interests. This is emphatically denied by those in power here. If later developments show that Manager McAleer has acquired a controlling interest in the club, it will have to be shown from whom acquired a controlling interest in the club, it will have to be shown from whom he obtained the stock. President Noyes and Secretary Ed Walsh are listed as the largest stockholders of the local club, in young Foster than Ward Miller, the many but the their holdings are not for sale. The writer believes that such talk us lian Johnson or the American League owning all per cent of the local stock is all tommyrot. McAleer will find it hard work to get even a small slice of the baseball atock, as the mojority of the local holders are unwilling to part with their sholders will easily bear out the truth of the foregoing statements.

Percy Given, the famous old Georgetown center, dropped in last night for a brief chat. Between puffs of a Fatima digarette he said, "Just watch those Hilling toppers this fall. I look for the best team in the history of the college. Coach Nelbon has the material, and with his knowledge of the game I believe he will not only beat Virginia asain, but not out the season with almost a clean slate."

Intended to draft him, but, of course, method doing.

The wither is nothing doing.

The New York papers are already beginning to buzz about the Highlanders, and venturing conjectures as to whether or the American League club next season. The writer met George Stallings shortly after he had been "canned" as manager of the Highlanders, and the American League club next season with almost a clean in the history of the college. Coach Nelbon has the material, and with his world.
